

‘Uninvited Guests’

Poetry Evening with Gill Lambert

Wednesday 18th October 7.30 p.m.

HEART Centre, Bennett Road, Headingley, LS6 3HN

Gill Lambert is a Poet and teacher from Yorkshire. She has been published in The Interpreter’s House, by Indigo Dreams, Beautiful Dragons, Paper Swans Press and Half Moon Books; and on-line by The Fat Damsel, Clear Poetry, Algebra of Owls and Poetry Space. She won the 2016 Ilkley Literature Festival Open mic competition, runs the “Shaken in Sheeptown” event in Skipton and compares at Word Club in Leeds. Her first solo pamphlet was published this year by Indigo Dreams, with a full collection Stairwell Books next year. Tonight’s theme will be on ‘Uninvited Guests’ – the things which come into our lives unbidden, pretty much anything really.

(All welcome to read in the second half).

Entrance is £3.50/£3.00 members and concessions and includes refreshments.
